How does it work?

By stimulating neurological points on the face, skull, electrical impulses are sent through the Central Nervous System to the brain.

Working on special cranial lines on the scalp to stimulate the areas of the brain responsible for attention, learning , reading etc..

Gentle stimulation of cranial nerves allow a significant improvement of hearing, visual deficiency .

Personalised exercises such as brain gym or drawing activate memory , increase the coordination necessary for activities such as writing (hand brain coordination ).It also help to balance emotions and improve learning response.
